

About Us

American Indian TV (AITV) is being brought into existence by native and non-native people who are passionate to meet the needs never met by local or national channels. Needs such as the preservation of American Indian and Alaskan Native culture, content that reflects Indian values and sensibilities, programming that features Indian artists, artisans, politicians, health care professionals, and story tellers as well as business people and entrepreneurs.

American Indian TV (AITV) is a NYC-based operation put together by Indian Country veterans and technical specialists of American Indian Sourcing (AIS) and Corporate Performance Artists (CorporatePA). AITV
